The torch of knowledge. What significance is contained in that emblem! Long ago, the Romans carried torches; torches that live and still light the path of knowledge. Rome knew the glories of civilization and the power of knowledge. They built civilization on the sound basis of widely diversified knowledge.

They carried the torch nobly and bravely; let us resolve to do the same--or better--to increase those qualities that make knowledge noble!

CLASS HISTORY

It was on the seventh day of September 1925, that the trusty vessel, The Ship of Fortune, stood at anchor at the wharf of a new school year. Many people gazed upon this faithful old schooner in wonder as they watched six beautiful, charming young ladies and seven bold, dashing young gentlemen as they stepped happily aboard.

As I was the first to be enrolled among the list of passengers, to me was entrusted the task of writing the log of the voyage. I had scarcely finished, writing my name on the log then I was joined by two companions, Delphina Ford and Harold Dahl. Incidentally, these two worthy companions were the only ones to sail with me over the many billows and waves to the end of our voyage. As we were discussing the many pleasant experiences that would be ours, we noticed a happy group coming up the gangplank. A sprightly gentleman, Lester Rutten, headed the group which included Carsten Braun, Dorance Runion, Mesmin Orchard, Leslie Parker, Thelma Severtson, Marie Johnson, Margaret Anderson, and Nellie Rychardt.

We sailed peacefully through the first and second seas with Miss Calderwood as our captain. In the second sea we picked up Jeanette Mertens and were forced to bid farewell to Dorance Runion who succumbed to a lingering illness.

As we docked at the third port, we heard the gay laughter and hilarity of two boys. Some one said that it was Jack Reiter and Frederick Robinson. We hastened up on deck and sure enough it was "Count" and "Fred" accompanied by a new stewardess, Miss Heald.

At our fourth stop a young lady, Eloise Else, escorted by two handsome gentlemen, Eldon Lucken and Quentin Conroy, boarded the ship. They were followed by a new pilot, Miss Dahl.

We sailed peacefully through the fifth and sixth seas with Miss LaDue as our commanding officer leaving behind Frederick Robinson, Lester Rutten, and Leslie Parker.

During our seventh and eighth years at sea with Miss Leen at the helm, we picked up Alphonsus Wagner. It was during the eighth year that a pall of deep sorrow fell over our group as our good shipmate Quentin Conroy, passed away.

We were told at this stage of the sea, that we would encounter rough sea in the four years that remained of our voyage. Some desired to reach their destination by different routes; they being Eloise Else, Margaret Anderson, and Marie Johnson. Carsten Brein unfortunately became ill and had to wait for the next ship going his way.

During the last lap of our eventful journey we have witnessed many changes in the passenger list. While in our Voyage of High School life, we picked up Lyle Mahoney, and Leo Rutten.

Today, we stand together on Commencement Wharf. It has been a wonderful voyage. We will go on writing new logs of adventure; and while the Voyage of School Life is at an end, the Voyage of Real Life is at its triumphant Commencement.

JUNIORS GIVE SUCCESSFUL BANQUET

With decorations pursuing the theme of the rose, the high school assembly was beautifully transformed for the annual Junior-Senior banquet, which was held on May 8. Long streamers of varying shades of pink waved across the room and came down on each side. At the back and the front handsome green trellis' decorated the room, and these, in turn, were covered with roses. The tables were set in a straight line, with the toast-master at the head of the table. A splendid supper was served, and a very congenial atmosphere was the result.

After the banquet was over, the senior and junior participants in the banquet danced to the music of Lester Ferley and his orchestra.

When the banquet broke up at twelve o'clock, everyone expressed himself as being well satisfied, and the juniors received many congratulations on their method of decorating the assembly room.

The program which entertained the supper guests, was, in the main, made up of talent from the junior class. It included the following numbers:

Talk.....	Mr. Day
Song.....	Girls' Quartet
Tap Dance.....	Clarabelle Patnoudé Darlene Olson
Piano Solo.....	Carsten Brein

ATHLETICS

For the first time in the history of the Crary High School, a football team was inaugurated here. Credit for the team's excellent showing, must go to the coaches--Mr. Day, and Mr. Keefe, who worked faithfully to produce a powerful six-man team.

With a handicap of stage-fright in the first game, the boys held Michigan well in hand. Their peak performance was reached in the game against Petersburg.

The line-up included: Harold Dahl, Leo Rutten, Bill Conroy, Eldon Lucken, Fred Robinson, Elmer McCaffery, Joseph Van-Steenvoort, Howard Parker, Edward Allard, and Duane Stenseth.

The fellows played an excellent brand of ball, and acquitted themselves creditably. Most of the scoring was due to the rushes of the husky 185 pound full-back, Leo Rutten. Bill Conroy was the only other player who scored a touchdown during the season.

The peak of a splendid year was reached in the last game with Petersburg

With the return of four lettermen, the 36-37 season was looked forward to, and several ambitious aspirants to the team added hope for a successful season. The return of Lester Rutten, and Adrian Nute in the second semester also encouraged the team.

The members of the squad included: Harold Dahl, Alphonsus Wagner, Fred Robinson, Bill Conroy, Elmer McCaffery, Leo Rutten, Joseph VanSteenvoort, Duane Stenseth, Roy Steinhaus, Wesley Fronk, and Pat Kavanaugh. Edward Allard, Lloyd Thorson, and Howard Parker were dropped out due to various difficulties they encountered.

The loss of Dahl, Wagner, and Rutten through graduation will be felt keenly, since Dahl and Wagner were first stringers, and Rutten a capable reserve.

The Crary fellows faced tough opposition nobly, and fought hard, every step of the way.

The strongest teams in the regular games with teams, were Starkweather and Lakota. The Stormkings displayed excellence in long shots, and the Lakotans had a very superior passing style. The home team garnered fifteen points in each of the contests with Lakota, and played them to a standstill on their own floor, giving them some bad moments.

Through some difficulty, the Michigan Bulldogs gave the boys a taste of defeat which only gave more determination. At the next meeting with the Bulldogs, they walloped them 27 to 16.

In the game with Webster, at Webster, Crary's offense clicked with astonishing facility, and even the reserves capably handled the last quarter. This encounter ended with Webster on the short end of a 28-6 score.

In a very close, defensive battle, the boys played Tokio, but Tokio emerged the winner 17 - 15. In the return game, the Crary players advanced the ball well and rapidly but did not seem to be able to hit the loop.

In a poorly played game, the Devils Lake Seconds set Crary back to the tune of 16- 8. In the return game, Devils Lake could not penetrate the close defense of Crary, and as a result they had the misfortune on their part of being defeated 24 - 13.

The regular class tournaments were held again this year, and the Junior class dominated both the girls' and boys' tourneys, and emerged as the high school champions.

Although the season was not as outstanding success, the purple clad boys showed up well in the tournaments. The first tournament that they entered was the Ramsey County tourney. Here, they defeated Edmore to gain second place.

At the district tournament, they drew the powerful Osnabrook team. The Crary fellows started speedily and led Osnabrook at the end of the first quarter, but were defeated when Osnabrook staged a splendid come-back.

ACTIVITIES

During the past winter, activities of varied sorts made time pass speedily, and as a result, every one was busy, and endeavoring to do his utmost. The numerous clubs provided recreation and more or less amusement to nearly every member of the student body. Some of the newly organized clubs were organized for the sole purpose of recreation, and others had educational aims in view, such as the 4H clubs that have been started in Crary and in the surrounding countryside.

Pi Rho Chi was dropped this year, but it is hoped that this favorite recreational activity of Friday afternoons, will be given a new impetus next year.

It is well known that all clubs of any sort will develop the cooperation sense of a boy or girl, while it provides that agreeable feeling of having the world by the tail on a downhill pull, through the companionship with the right company.

LYCEUM PROGRAMS PROVE WORTH

On February 4th, the Marionettes were presented. This act consisted of the manipulation of puppets through various little plays. This, of course, was enthusiastically received by the children.

The Davies Light Opera came here on March 18th, and proved to be an outstanding number of the year.

James Williams, a chemist, appeared on April 9th, and gave a very interesting lecture on the properties of liquid air.

The Hanscom Players appeared here on April 26th. They presented a splendid, and well-acted play. The name of this educational skit was "His Father's Son".

On May third, the Lombards entertained the assembly with several numbers. These numbers, for the greater part, were musical in nature, with dialogues and comic, startlingly real impersonations at suitable intervals in the program.

OPERETTA FEATURE OF XMAS PROGRAM

The Annual Christmas entertainment was held in the Cray School Gymnasium on Friday evening, December 18th.

The main feature of the evening was the grade operetta. The leading roles were played by Barbara Kirchoffner, Mary Mertens, Lillian Larson, Phyllis Mertens, and John Keck. Between the acts of the operetta, the Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, and the Boys' Quartet sang several numbers suitable for Christmas.

Santa Claus, reindeers, and all appeared on the scene to distribute candy to the children and pass out gifts to the audience.

CRARY WINS 3RD IN CONTESTS

The county contests were held in Edmore, on April 2. The numbers entered by Crary were the following: Girls' Glee Club; Boys' Glee Club; Boys' Quartet; Girls' Trio; Piano Solo; Humorous and Dramatic readings; Tenor Solo; Grade Chorus; Soprano Solo; and penmanship with grade spelling incidental. All of the high school entries were under the leadership and the direction of Miss Melby. Crary came out third highest in competition with nine schools. The glee club of the girls came out second in a field of seven glee clubs. The tenor solo, Boys' quartet, and Boys' Glee Club won third places. Carsten Brein won 1st in piano solo. The judging of the contest was capably handled by the well-known voice teacher in the University, Mrs. Caroline Humpstone.

"GYPSY ROVER" PRESENTED SUCCESSFULLY

Another of the newer types of entertainment is the operetta. The "Gypsy-Rover", was held on February 12th. The operetta was an interesting tale of old gypsy days in ye merrie old England. The leading roles were taken by Harold Dahl, and Mary Patricia Cavanaugh. Other of the roles were handled by Fred Robinson, Carsten Brein, Lois Hilgers, Helen LeDuc, Howard Parker, Pat Kavanaugh, Bill Conroy, Duane Stenseth, and Joseph VanSteenvoort. Supporting the cast was the combined chorus, composed of the Boys' Glee Club, and the Girls' Glee Club. Six of the grade children also played roles of gypsy children. The scenery and lighting effects all combined to make a very beautiful effect on the stage.

YEARBOOK PUBLISHED ENTHUSIASTICALLY

The "Crarian" is an innovation of the current school year, and promises to be a regular feature of future years, since the "Crarian" is a good volume, with a great deal of sincere work put into it with splendid results.

The staff was made up of upper classmen for the greater part, although athletics and the lower class notes were handled very capably by lower classmen.

The materials for the book were purchased from a company specializing in yearbooks made up by High School student bodies and mimeographed.

The staff had had very little experience with work on a yearbook, but some were on the High Times staff. The inexperienced members, notably lower class members, did some very good work, and turned in good write-ups of their assignments.

CARNIVAL GIVEN JANUARY 15

The High School Carnival was held on January 15th, in the school building and the Crary Hall. The entertainment consisted of the main show, concessions, and the dance in the Hall. Due to the inclemency of the weather, the crowd was not up to par, but gross receipts of approximately $ 80.00 were taken in. This fund was used to expand athletics. The carnival queen was Mary Patricia Cavanaugh, and she was crowned by the president of the student body, Frederick Robinson.

The gym was entirely given over to the various booths, and the gay decorations that each booth used to attract attention of potential customers. Of course, there was considerable rivalry, but as usual, the grocery shop and the novelty corner led the sales.

THE PROGRAM

The program in the main hall included a mock operation performed by throwing the shadows of the actors on the screen made of ordinary sheets. There were two plays; "The Latest In Football", and the play, "When The Wife's Away".

"The Latest In Football", was a play about a mother who had a tomboyish daughter. The uncle came and made the daughter promise not to play football, but he gave her a big game ticket!

"When The Wife's Away", just as that title would indicate, husbands will play and have their little adventures when the wife's away, but in this case, they were caught!

GIRL SCOUTS END ACTIVE YEAR

The girl scouts under the leadership of Miss Leen, scoutmaster, and Miss Hausman, lieutenant, have just concluded a very active year.

Regular meetings have been held during the school year, and various projects have been undertaken. These include pottery and linoleum block printing. Late last fall the girls sponsored a Halloween party for their parents.

The troop patrol leaders are Mary Reiter and Beatrice Dodgson. The assistant patrol leaders are Estella Froelich and Genevieve Bye. Sherley Bymers and Marian Conroy are the treasurer and scribe respectively.

BOY SCOUTS QUALIFY FOR BADGES

The high school division of the boy scout troop have just concluded an extensive study of merit badge projects. Jack Reiter has obtained the required twenty merit badges to qualify him as an eagle scout, the highest obtainable. Harold Dahl and Carsten Brein have nearly completed the requirements for life rank, which is the next highest award.

Last fall several members of the troop represented the organization at the annual Lake Agassiz Convention for scouters at Grand Forks.

The scoutmaster of the troop is Mr. Keefe. Jack Reiter occupies the position as assistant scoutmaster. Patrol leaders include Joseph VanSteenvoort, Carsten Brein and Harold Dahl.

With prospects of several new members next year, the troop hopes to continue its activity another year.

← SOCIETIES & CLUBS →

During the past school year, the Crary High School has completed its regular schedule of activities, and has also added a few more. One of the rather newer activities is the operetta given by the glee clubs. The operetta of the current year was quite successful, and many compliments were received on the performing of the cast.

The activities, have for the greater part, been entered into with enthusiasm, and have afforded experience and the valuable training of very necessary co-operation.

With public programs, and other added activities, the school year has been unusually full, and everyone has had an opportunity to work hard.

RECREATIONAL CLUB FORMED

With the organization of a boy's recreational club last winter, an outlet for a good wholesome recreation was opened. An old building was donated for the purpose, and the installation of a ping-pong table and some other games, made the place rather home-like, and gave the boys some well spent evenings. Dues to the organization were fifty cents every month. The purpose of these dues was to finance the coal bill, and such incidental expenses as light etc. The membership was rather small, because the students from the country did not feel that they would have much time to spend in the recreation room. The members included the following boys: Leo Rutten, Elmer McCaffery, Duane Stenseth, Adrian Nute, Bill Conroy, Alphonsus Wagner, Jim Coe, Joseph VanSteenvoort, Lloyd Thorson, and Wesley Fronk. Two of the faculty members were also included; Mr. Day and Mr. Keefe. It appears that the club was quite a success, since it was used considerably.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB PERFORMS SUCCESSFULLY

The Boys' Glee Club was again organized this year, and had the following students as its members: Bass Section; Fred Robinson, Carsten Brein, Pat Kavanaugh, Clarence Dahl, and Alphonsus Wagner; Baritone Section; Bill Conroy, Harold Dahl, James Coe, and Raymond Brein. Tenor Section; Howard Parker, Joseph VanSteenvoort, Roy Steinhaus, Lloyd Thorson, and Duane Stenseth.

The Glee Club did quite well in its few performances this year, and won a third in Edmore.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB ORGANIZED

The girls' glee club reorganized at the beginning of the year under the leadership of Miss Melby, who also handled the rest of the school music.

The members included the following girls: First Soprano; Mary Patricia-Cavanaugh, Viola Bymers, Shirley Bymers, Virginia Stenseth, Lois Lee, Lucille Lee; Second Soprano; Helen LeDuc, Genevieve-Kalinowski, Ruth Kalinowski, Othelia Rise, and Marian McCaffery; Altos; Lois Hilgers, Mary Reiter, Florence Mertens, and Elizabeth Sattler.

The glee club took part in the annual operetta, the "Gypsy Rover", in conjunction with the boys' glee club.

With heavy competition, the girls' glee club won second place out of seven clubs at the Edmore county contest. Their selection was "A Prayer of Thanksgiving".

The officers of the glee club are the following girls:

President.....Mary Pat Cavanaugh
Sec'y-Treasurer.....Lucille Lee

TRI-MU ORGANIZED UNDER 4-H

With Mrs. Cox as leader, the Tri Mu (Mind, Moral, and Muscle) was formed. The president of the club is Beatrice Dodgson, and Viola Bymers and Mary Reiter acting as minor officers. The club received first place with a booth at county achievement Day. Miss Mary Reiter won second with an essay and received a free trip to Fargo as an award for her effort. The club had done many educational projects, and will continue their good work as long as they are together.

HANNAH TRIUMPHS IN 12TH DISTRICT

LAKOTA, N. D.—(SPECIAL)—Hannah scored an easy 31-15 victory over Osnabrock here Wednesday night to win the Twelfth district Class B high school basketball title, after ousting Lakota, 1936 state titleholder, in a morning semi-final.

Osnabrock, the other finalist, gained the last round by knocking off Langdon, 18-14.

Third place honors went to Langdon, which defeated Lakota, 15-11, rallying in the fourth quarter to score eight points after Lakota had led, 10-7 as the period opened.

Hannah, playing good basketball all the way, was never headed in the title game. The new champions had an 8-0 edge at the end of the first quarter and were ahead 12-5 at the half. They had increased this margin to 25-7 at the end of the third session.

Hannah sprang the biggest upset of the tournament by ousting Lakota, 1936 state champion, in the first semi-final. The close-checking tactics of the winners stopped Lakota's attack dead, H. Hendrickson scoring the only two field goals Coach Bjerke's club counted.

Osnabrock and Langdon staged another defensive struggle in the second semi-final, Osnabrock finally edging out an 18-14 triumph. Torgeson pitched in five field goals to account for 10 of Langdon's points.
